

Clinical studies including more than 50 patients with LCH, by publication year. Studies dealing exclusively with adults were not included as well as the epidemiological studies. The percentage of organs involved was calculated, including documentation of sites of recurrence